JULY 30, 1800,

The Rev^d^ WILLIAM GOODE,

IN THE CHAIR;

THE COMMITTEE PRESENTED A REPORT OF THE STATE AND PROGRESS OF THE INSTITUTION, WHICH WAS TAKEN INTO CONSIDERATION, ORDERED TO BE PRINTED, AND DISTRIBUTED TO THE SUBSCRIBERS.

REPORT.

IMMEDIATELY after the Association was formed, the Committee, greatly encouraged by the Approbation and Liberality manifested at the first Meeting on the 11th of December, 1799, lost no time in carrying into effect the unanimous wish of the Subscribers; and some roomy premises, extending from New-Street to Friar-Street, in Blackfriars, the situation of which seemed very eligible, having been offered to them on advantageous terms, they were induced to purchase two leases for the term of about sixty years, for the sum of £.415, in preference to standing at an annual rent, which would have been a continual incumbrance to the institution; there is now only £.15 per annum ground rent, payable for the whole of the premises occupied by the Association.

During the necessary erections on the premises, the Association were obligingly accommodated with the use of the City Kitchen, Guildhall, which was rendered very convenient for the purpose. The delivery of Soup commenced there on the 7th of January, and it soon became necessary to have two boilers, capable of making about 2000 quarts of Soup per day. The number of families who partook of this daily relief was 1744.

On the removal to the premises in Blackfriars, on the 26th of February, an alteration was made, with a view of extending the benefits of the institution, by restricting the delivery to thrice in the week to the same persons; by this means, the number of families who partook of the relief was increased to 2420, estimated to consist of about 10,000 persons. The delivery of Soup terminated on the 8th of May; the total quantity delivered in 94 days is 120,416 quarts. The sum received by the sale thereof at one Penny per quart, (excepting what was sent to the prisons), is £.491 11*s.* and the cost of the ingredients, with a few other charges, being £.1462 13*s.* it appears that 240,832 meals, of an acceptable and very nutritious diet, has been afforded to so numerous a body of poor, at an expence of £.971 2*s.*

After the discontinuance of the Soup, it still became necessary from the increasing price of all kinds of provisions, and the pressure of the times, to continue some relief. Potatoes and Pickled Herrings were thought eligible; the former were sold at one Halfpenny per pound, and the latter at one Farthing each. The sum of £.396 1*s.* 4*d.* has been sunk in the sale of these articles.

The total quantity of potatoes sold is 150,158 pounds, and 88,784 herrings, which includes eleven tons of potatoes, and thirty barrels of herrings received from the Committee at Lloyd's.

The article of Rice, palatably prepared, has also been tried with good success; one pound, or pint, of which, when boiled, making about six pints; this was sold at one Halfpenny per quart: 24,784 quarts of this acceptable diet have been disposed of, at an expence to the Association of £. 125 6*s*. 2*d*. The delivery of these articles terminated on the 19th of July, being sixty days of delivery, which, added to the ninety-four days of Soup, makes 154 days in all; the total number of meals is 415,774.

The Committee have been particularly careful that the Soup, and other provisions, should be of the best quality; and the avidity and thankfulness with which the poor have continually applied for them, is a proof how acceptable the adopted mode of relief has been to them.

The purchase of the premises, the erections, and the out-fit of the establishment, have been expensive, but these will not occur again; and when it is considered that a considerable sum was subscribed for the express purpose of the Building, and that the Funds of the Association have been adequate thereto, and to the supply of the poor during the season, it will be found, that this Institution will not only possess very superior accommodations, but also be in most desirable circumstances, being for so long a period nearly exempted from rent. Perhaps the like could not have been accomplished in any other part of the metropolis, and has only been effected here by the great liberality and ability of the Subscribers, aided by the handsome Donations of several public Bodies, and the Munificence of the Corporation of London.

It is proposed, during the summer recess, to complete the Building, so far as is absolutely necessary for the purposes of the Establishment. The premises are regularly vested in seven Trustees, who have executed a Declaration of Trusts, which, with the Title Deeds, are deposited with Henry Thornton, Esq. Chairman; they have been generously insured for £. 1200 by the Phœnix Fire-Office, for the nominal premium of five shillings per annum; and the New River Company have gratuitously supplied the Public Kitchen with water.

Upon a review of what has been accomplished, and of the quantum of relief that has been afforded, at a time of most unexampled difficulty to the poor, it is presumed that every Subscriber must feel a considerable satisfaction in having contributed to such an undertaking; and must be convinced, that in no other channel could he have afforded such extensive relief with the same means. There are many peculiar advantages attending the administration of such a public institution, the wide range to which its benefits extend, the security against abuse arising from the publicity of its transactions, and the number and respectability of its Committee increasing the means of doing good, and insuring, in some degree, the judiciousness of its proceedings.

It cannot be supposed that what has been accomplished, has been without a sacrifice of much of the time, or without the continued exertions and perseverance of its conductors; but they consider themselves amply compensated in the reflection of having so materially contributed to alleviate the distresses of great numbers in the humbler walks of life, whose sufferings, and those of their children, but for this and similar institutions, might have been lamentable beyond description.

The Association, animated by the success of their endeavours in the good cause of increasing the comforts, and bettering the condition of the poor, and sensible of the eminently beneficial effects of this Institution, look forward with a degree of confidence to a continuance of public patronage and support, whenever they ſhall be required by the pressure and exigency of the times.

Signed, by Order of the General Meeting,

WILLIAM GOODE,
DEPUTY CHAIRMAN.

About five o'clock in the morning the fire is afresh excited, and the meat put in. The barley and peas are soaked in cold water all night, and put in about eight o'clock; the onions, being pared and sliced, are added about nine o'clock. The whole is kept in a gentle boiling state, from the time the meat was put in, till ten, when the bones are taken out; the salt, pepper, and mustard, are then thrown in, and about half an hour afterwards the fire is withdrawn, and the distribution takes place. It is needful to keep the boiler carefully stirred after the peas are put in, till the Soup is served out.
